we are safe in saying that our stock of Cloaks is one of the most complete west of the Missouri river. We have within the past week received 300 additional Garments that were on "back order." Every lady should visit this De-partment, for nothing can be of more interest to her than to buy the latest style of a Cloak, especially so when they can buy it for less than any merchant owns them for.

A Little Neglected Stone Marks the Spot In Greenwood.

The tombs of Greenwood's great are ooks as though no one ever visited it, says the New York Recorder. A simple head stone marks the only grave in it, and the inscription on it is: "Miss Eliza Gilbert, Died Jan. 17, 1861; at 42."

It is the grave of Lola Montez, the Becky

as a creole, but aside from that nothing was a creole, but aside from that nothing is known definitely of her parentage. She was educated in England, married when lifteen years old to Captain James of the army, went to India and left him, appeared as a Spanish dancer in Paris in 1840, and after a gay whirl in Paris turned up in Munich in the ballet. King Louis became infatuated with her, and in 1846 made her countess of Landsfeldt.

The King's infatuation brought on the governmental crisis of 1848 which led to his abdication and Lola's expulsion from Bavaria. In 1851 she came to New York with Louis Kossuth and continued her ca-
